

Scholars to College

The Emily K Center seeks to continue expansion of its Scholars to College program, a year-round out-of-school program for low-income high school students (i.e., qualify for free and reduced-price lunch) residing in Durham County, who are recommended by a teacher or counselor. Students must apply and be accepted into the program. The program offers students academic skill development, college planning, leadership skills, and career exploration. The Center expects to serve 130 students in the 2015-2016 school year.