

NC Arts in Action

This 2009 Ribbon of Hope grant supported in-school performing arts residencies for elementary students that provided instruction and opportunities that support other academic subjects for an entire grade level, provided intensive physical activities, and provided trained mentors. The program is a local implementation of a national model. The program focused on 5th grade students at two of Durham's "at-risk" elementary schools.