

Females in Math and Science (FeMS)

The Females in Math and Science program is proposed to increase female students' enrollment, math and science course success, and completion of Davidson County Community College's Associate of Science program through a comprehensive set of academic and student support services. The program will provide tutoring and other supports, scholarships for students, and stipends for student mentors. This is a 2017 Ribbon of Hope award.