

Durham Technical Community College

This $500,000 traditional grant, 1997 – 2000 supported the college with needed changes for information and communication technology. The plan included wiring for the college's computer network into campus buildings, and equipment for a new technology facility.